Close Tilts Mark CYO Hoop Event

By PAUL DEE

Unusually close games marked the opening of the state CYO Grammar School Tournament last night at the Bradley gym before a good crowd.

In the first tilt, St. John the Baptist of Suncook, paced by Jim St. Onge, outlasted St. Hedwig of Manchester in a double overtime game, 43-41. Both teams tallied two points in the first extra period and therefore had to enter another overtime period. With 21 seconds left, St. Onge stole a pass and raced the distance of the court to put St. John up by two. Then Frank Drociack fouled little Les Chaput, who went to the free throw line and calmy sank both charity tosses to put the game on ice.

The second game, like the first, went into overtime. Mike Tarr of St. Peter was the hero of the day as he sank a short jumper with four seconds left to pull out a 42-40 victory for last year's finalist, St. Peter of Concord, over Holy Trinity of Somersworth.

In other action, defending champion St. Joseph of Manchester edged St. Mary of Dover, 25-24, while a tall St. Bernard quintet of Keene rolled over Sacred Heart of Lebanon, 50-29.

Tonight's action pits St. Hedwig against Holy Trinity at 5:30, St. Peter of Concord against St. John at 6:30, St. Bernard against St. Joseph at 7:30 and Sacred Heart against St. Mary at 8:30.

Raphael Downs OLPH, 56-40

St. Raphael CYO gained a spot in the state tournament yesterday by downing OLPH in a playoff game for the city's second spot at Bishop Bradley.

Kenny O'Connor led the Westsiders with 21 points, while Bill Cronin hit the nets for 12 to lead the losers.

In the other contest at Bradley yesterday St. Hedwig, buoyed by the 20 points of Forward Frank Pikos, made short order of the St. Joseph five.

Steve Carter gathered 22 points for the losers.

Next Friday at 5 p. m. will begin the action for the state Intermediate tourney with Blessed Sacrament of Manchester battling with St. Bernard of Keene.

NH CYO Basketball Event Opens Tonight

Two Manchester quintets will see action tonight as the annual State CYO Grammar School Basketball Tournament gets underway at the Bishop Bradley High gym. Play will continue Saturday and Sunday.

St. Hedwig and St. John the Baptist will tangle in the tourney opener at 5:30 and St. Joseph will face St. Mary of Dover in the night's finale at 8:30.

The other two games, at 6:30 and 7:30, will pit Holy Trinity of Somersworth against St. Peter of Concord and Sacred Heart of Lebanon against St. Bernard of Keene.

St. Hedwig CYO Squad Edges St. Anne, 45-42

St. Hedwig edged St. Anne, 45-42, on a late-game spurt to highlight yesterday's CYO action at the Bishop Bradley High School gym.

In other games yesterday, St. Catherine downed St. Joseph 43-32; Blessed Sacrament topped St. Jude, 44-30; OLPH crushed St. Edmund 57-24; St. Raphael stunned St. Jean, 60-23, and St. Pius stopped St. Patrick, 50-28.

John Mazelewski drilled home 16 points for St. Hedwig to pace the Polish lads to a thrilling, last-minute win over St. Anne. The outstanding individual effort of Ray Gagne, who collected 25 points for the losers, went by the boards. St. Anne outscored the winners, 16-12, in the final period.

Defending state champion Blessed Sacrament blasted to a 27-9 halftime lead over St. Jude on the strength of Tommy Bowen's 10-point output and then coasted home with the shock troops.

Chet Swiesz was the big noise for the West Side St. Raphael five as it jumped to a 19-3 first-period edge on St. Jean to virtually assure the victory.

St. Pius managed to pull away from St. Patrick at the start and spent the rest of the afternoon increasing its lead, much the same as did OLPH in its win over St. Edmund.

St. Catherine was another quintet that streaked from the opening tap and then protected a 26-14 halftime spread.

Concord's St. Peter Five Wins CYO Hoop Crown

By PAUL DEE

St. Peter of Concord annexed another State Grammar School CYO basketball championship yesterday afternoon at the Bradley Gym before a near capacity crowd, as it defeated St. Bernard of Keene, 45-42.

In other action, St. Joseph of Manchester earned third place in the tournament with a 41-38 conquest of St. Jean the Baptist of Suncook while St. Mary of Dover toppled St. Hedwig of Manchester 49-25, to take the honors in the Consolation flight.

St. Peter, beaten finalist last year, and its standout player, Mike Tarr, got right to work at the opening tapoff. St. Bernard center, Bruce Walker, got the tap but little Joe Cassidy came up with a fine play as he stole the ball and fed Tarr, who hit on a short jumper to give the Capital City boys a quick 2-0 lead. St. Peter, Bobby Pavaglio center then converted a driving layup into a three-point play as the St. Peter squad took a 5-0 lead. Luke Lilly and Walker quickly shortened the deficit as they hit on short jumpers to close the gap 5-4. However, St. Peter came right back and at the end of the initial stanza they were on top 9-6.

Trade Baskets

In the second quarter, both teams traded baskets on even terms. Tarr and Pavaglio were the big men for St. Peter during this stanza while Mike McCarten carried the load for the Keene squad as the two teams entered the locker room with St. Bernard on the short end of a 22-19 score.

Little did the Concord squad know that the small three point lead they built up in the first marking would provide them with their margin of victory.

Both teams traded hoops on even terms in the final two periods as Tarr continued to rip the cords at a scorching rate and he combined with Pavaglio to neutralize the overtowering height of the St. Bernard club.

A last ditch effort by St. Bernard to pull out a victory fell short and when the final buzzer sounded St. Peter was on top with a close 45-42 victory.

Because of this conquest St. Peter earns the right to represent New Hampshire in the New England tournament.

St. Joseph, sparked by Bobby Smith's 18 points and the fine ball handling of Scott Pappas, staved off a second half comeback by St. Jean the Baptist to pull out a 41-38 victory and salvaged third place in the tournament that they won last year.

St. Mary of Dover found the going easier against Manchester City champs St. Hedwig as they oppled the Manchester quintet 49-25.

At the end of the Championship contest several trophies were presented to various players and teams.

Dick Daigle of St. Hedwig was presented the City's Most Valuable Player Award and Jim McAndrew of St. Ann's was given the Sportsmanship award while St. Hedwig was presented the City Trophy, significant of supremacy in the tough Manchester City League.

St. Peter was given the State Championship trophy and also a special trophy for capturing the title three times. St. Bernard was rewarded for its fine per- trophy, while St. Joseph received third-place trophy.

In addition to the team trophies a special trophy was given to the St. Peter cheerleaders for being the best cheerleading group in the Tournament.

An all tournament team composed of six players was also selected. They were: Jim St. Onge of St.Jean, Luke Lilly and Bob Montrone of St. Bernard Bobby Smith of St. Joseph and Mike Tarr and Joe Cassidy from St. Peter, Tarr was also named honorary captain of this squad because of his outstanding tournament performance and also for being selected for the second consecutive year.

St. Hedwig Finishes Third in Cheerleading

ATTLEBORO, Mass. — St. Hedwig CYO of Manchester finished third in the second annual New England CYO Cheerleading competition at Bishop Feehan High School Gym here yesterday.

It was the second New England award won by the Queen City parochials. St. Hedwig finished fifth in last year's competition at Worcester, Mass.

Sacred Heart of Woonsocket, R. I., took top honors in the parish CYO cheerleading event. Second to Sacred Heart was St. Leo's of Leominster, Mass.

In high school competition, Sacred Heart Academy of Worcester won the first place trophy. Second was St. Columbkille High of Brighton, Mass., and third was Bishop Fenwick of Peabody, Mass.

Fifteen teams competed in the parish bracket, in which St. Hedwig placed third. Nine schools were represented in the high school bracket and one of New Hampshire's entries, Sacred Heart of Laconia, was unable to attend.

During halftime, Barbara McCuskie, New Hampshire's Junior Miss and Miss Talent in the American Junior Miss Pageant, performed her championship-winning dance routine.
